Whistleblower Actions (qui tam) in the Medical Arena

Ms. Wawzenski currently serves as Deputy Chief of the office's Civil Division. As part of her duties, she supervises all of the office's civil fraud work, which includes the coordination of parallel criminal cases. Ms. Wawzenski has handled a variety of significant health care fraud cases including a judgment after trial of $64.2 million in a health care fraud case alleging Anti-Kickback and Stark violations. Her most recent case was a settlement with Walgreens for $35 million, based on allegations that the company illegally switched Medicaid-covered nursing home patients across the country to more expensive forms of certain drugs. Ms. Wawzenski will speak on whistleblower actions (qui tam) in the medical arena involving false billing by medical providers and the pharmaceutical industry. She will provide us insight into the prosecution of such cases.
